

CHILDREN'S SAFETY is the objective of the woman's auxiliary of the Mokena Amvet post's child welfare committee. To this end they have left leaflets at the schools for distribution among the youngsters. "A Child's Code for Survival," is the title of the message which warns children

Dist. Gov. Of Lions Will Visit Mokena Club Jan. 4

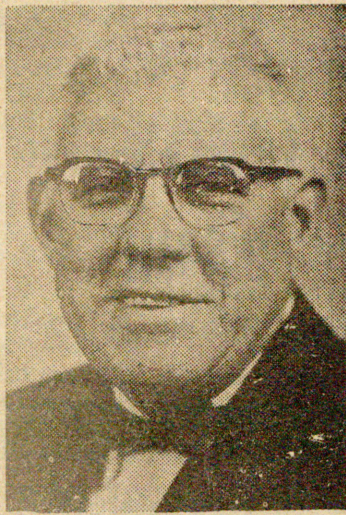

Ted A. Massey, 308 Oregon St., Frankfort, Illinois Lions District 1-B Governor, will make his official visit at the regular meeting of the Mokena Lions club on Jan. 4 at the Ritt's Restaurant, starting at 7 p.m. The principal speaker at the meeting, he will talk on the subject, "Lionism and Its Organizational Structure."

Following the meeting, Governor Massey will meet with members of the club's Board of Directors.

A native of Chicago, Governor Massey lived in Morris and Joliet prior to moving to Frankfort, where he owns and operates a service station and motel.

Governor Massey has been a member of the Frankfort Lions Club for the past 12 years, having served the club as president, first, second and third vice-presidents, secretary and treasurer for the past two years. He also was District 1-B Zone Chairman last year.

Besides Lions, he is a member of the Mt. Joliet Lodge No. 42 A.F. and A.M. and the St.

TED A. MASSEY

Peter's United Church of Christ, Frankfort. He is also past president of the Joliet Grade School and Joliet Township High School Band Parents Association.

He and his wife, Lorraine, have a daughter, Mrs. Glen Christiansen, of New Lenox, and a son, Jay, of Frankfort, who is associated with his father in the operation of the service station and motel.

Set Vegetable Growers Annual School Dates

The Cook County Vegetable Growers have planned a detailed program of outstanding speakers for their annual schools. William F. Whiteside, Cook County farm adviser and Joe Vandemark, University of Illinois vegetable extension specialist worked with a committee of local producers to plan the details of the program.

The committee has proposed a three-day program with a general meeting being held in LaGrange on Jan. 3, the North Cook county meeting on production problems on Jan. 4, and the South Cook County meeting on Jan. 5, also to discuss cultural and production problems.

The general session on Wednesday, Jan. 3, will be held at the West Suburban Y.M.C.A., 31 E. Ogden ave., LaGrange, starting at 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The program for this all-county meeting will be primarily on the economical aspect of the vegetable business and the recent housing legislation which affects the migratory labor.

William F. Lomasney, University of Illinois Economist will speak on the "Economics of Vegetable Prices and Farmer Returns as Influenced by Outlook and Voluntary or Government Programs."

Albert Cross of the Illinois Agricultural Association Legal Department and Charles Clark of the Illinois department of public health will be speaking on the Interpretation of Labor Housing Licensing Act as it will be administered in 1962. A brief report of the University of Illinois farm record program will be given at this meeting.

The South Cook County Meeting will be held on Friday, Jan. 5, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Thornton Township Hall, South Holland.

Topics that will be presented and discussed will include insect control, chemical weed control, social security problems, efficient use of fertizers, disease control, while rot problems of onions, sugar beet problems, agricultural public relations and frost control on tomatoes. Each topic will be presented by a specialist in this field as selected by the planning committee. Speakers will include several University of Illinois specialists, U.S.D.A. specialists and an Illinois Department of Public Health official, a Social Security officer, and an Illinois Agricultural Association lawyer.

Growers in this area of the state are invited and urged to attend these important meetings of their business.

Award Prizes For Christmas Lighting

Vernon Opp, who resides on North Brightway in Brightwood subdivision west of Mokena, was the winner in the annual Christmas lighting contest sponsored by the Mokena Chamber of Commerce.

First prize was $15, Second prize of $10 went to James Hosea, also of N. Brightway and third prize, $5 went to William Muhler, on Wolf road.

Edwin Schellhase, of Arby Hills, was given honorable mention, according to William Tuttle, president of Chamber of Commerce. Also receiving honorable mention was the home of Arthur Omland on Center street, Mokena.

Judges of the contest were Sheriff Gilbert Knater, Justice of the Peace Anthony Mackay both of Joliet, and Supervisor John E. Francis of New Lenox.

There was no formal filing of entries in the contest. The judges toured the area and viewed every home with exterior lighting in keeping with the holiday. Scores of homes in the Mokena area were eligible.

Former Green Garden Farmer Succumbs At 79

Conrad Sangmeister, of Frankfort, died Wednesday, Dec. 20 following a short illness. He is 79 years old having been born in Green Garden township Sept. 26, 1886. He resided there most of his life.

He was married June 21, 1911 to Lydia Lembke and the couple farmed in Green Garden until 1939 when they moved to Frankfort. Mrs. Sangmeister died in 1955. Their only son died in infancy.

Mr. Sangmeister is survived by one sister, Miss Lena Laun, four nieces and two nephews.

He was a member of the Modern Woodmen and of St. Peter's church.

Removal was to the Sonntag, Burgess and Wyllie funeral home at Joliet from where services were held last Saturday to St. Peter's church with the Rev. Erich Bizer officiating. Burial was in Pleasant Hill cemetery.

Affain Honors At Bradley

Stan Korista and Kenneth Weber, former Lincoln-Way high school students, were elected to the highest honorary fraternity at Bradley university, Omicron Delta Kappa.

Election to the Omicron Delta Kappa is the highest honor that a Bradley man can receive. Selection is made on scholarship, leadership, and service to Bradley University.

Kenneth Weber, overall 5.9 is a member of Theta Chi fraternity in which he has served as a guard and pledge trainer. A member of Newman club, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, B-Club and American Society of Civil Engineers, Weber has served on the Inter-Fraternity Council as Vice-President, in Student Senate, and in Pan-Fra. Also, he has been Inter-Fraternity Council Supreme Court Justice. He has participated in Inter-fraternity football, bowling, wrestling, swimming, golf, volleyball, and softball. In ROTC he was a Staff Sergeant. Ken Weber also was a 3-year letterman in Varsity Track and won the inter-fraternity wrestling championship.

Stan Korista, overall 6.94 grade average, is a member of Theta Chi fraternity. He has served as the house of historian, house manager and steward. His activities include American Society of Civil Engineers (secretary, vice-president and president); Phi Eta Sigma, Sigma Tau, Joint Engineering Council, secretary; and senior class senator. Stan has been flight commander and cadet master sergeant. In inter-fraternity sports he has participated in football, basketball, baseball, track, wrestling, tennis, golf, volleyball, swimming, and bowling. He has also been on the Student Activities Budget Review Committee, on the homecoming prop committee, in ROTC Band and in Pan-Fra.

Ken is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weber of 360 West Francis Road, New Lenox, and Stan Korista is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Drophmer Korista of Maple Road, New Lenox.

Five Area Residents Die In Auto Accidents

Five automobile deaths last week marred the holidays for area families.

A Tinley Park man employed at Frankfort was killed on the outskirts of that village Thursday night and an Orland Park resident and a Dolton man were killed near Worth the same night. Earlier in the week, a Palos Park mother and her five year old son were fatally injured when their car struck a cement truck on the Southwest highway at 106th street, Worth.

The Tinley man, James Stephens, 54, of 167th and Oak Forest ave., was driving south on Oak Park ave. around 6:30 p.m. when he went off the road and rammed the rear end of a truck loaded with fuel oil. According to police the truck was standing on the shoulder, off the highway.

The impact was such that the rear bumper of the truck was driven up into the body of the vehicle and the heavy truck was propelled some 15 or 20 feet. The car was so firmly wedged against the truck that it took wreckers approximately an hour to get the vehicles apart.

Stephens was a large man and the steering wheel broke against his chest. He was badly cut and crushed and trapped in the wreckage. Rescuers worked for almost half an hour before they succeeded in freeing him. Stephens was taken to Hazel Crest hospital where he died around midnight.

He was formerly employed as a bus driver but at the time of his death was in the employ of Superior Match Co. at Frankfort. He was a native of Tennessee. Funeral services for Mr. Stephens were held Tuesday from the Kerr chapel at Harvey with the Rev. Virgil Lascelles, of the Mission Baptist church of Harvey officiating. He is survived by his wife, Lella, of Tinley, a son, Clifford of Harvey, his mother, Mrs. Lulu McKinney, also of Harvey, and four brothers.

In the accident near Worth Thursday night two killed were Peter J. Vandernorth, Jr., 31 years old, of 14949 Highland avenue, Orland Park and Patrick M. Lydon, 30, of 14037 Lincoln ave., Dolton.

Police reported that a witness, Leon K. Leonas, 42, of 125000 Pawnee road, Palos Park, whose car struck the rear of Vandernorth's auto after it had collided with Lydon, stated that Lydon, going northeast, crossed the center line and struck Vandernorth's southwest bound car.

Mr. Vandernorth was a salesman and a member of the Orland Park volunteer fire department. Besides his wife, Patricia, he is survived by two sons, Peter and Scott.

Also surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Vandernorth, Sr.; one sister, Mrs. Adelyn Milford and two brothers, James F. and Daniel P.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at St. Michael's church Orland Park with burial in Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

The Palos Park woman and boy killed were Mrs. Lee Lieberstein 43, of 127th street and 79th ave. and her son, I. Seth. Investigators believe Mrs. Lieberstein suffered a heart attack, causing her to lose control of her car. The vehicle swerved out of the southwest bound lane into the path of a cement truck traveling northeast. The truck then crashed into a station wagon which was traveling northeast parallel with the truck. The wagon was driven by the Rev. Michael Broniec, assistant pastor of St. Michael's church of Orland Park. Father Broniec and the driver of the truck, Charles Anderson, 62, of 1033 Hannah street, Forest Park, were uninjured. Mrs. Lieberstein and her son were killed instantly.

The husband and father, Dr. Joseph H. Lieberstein, a physician with offices in Oak Lawn, said his wife had taken the boy on a Christmas shopping trip and ironically enough her purchases had included four new tires for safe winter driving.

Other survivors include three sons, Lowell and Loth, 15-year-old twins, Leslie, 14 and Gilda June, 10.

New Lenox Girl Will Sing The Title Role In "Carmen"

A New Lenox township resident, Henrietta Kooyenga, of Lincolnwood Hills, is to sing the title role of "Carmen" with the American Opera Company, Chicago, Jan. 20 and 21. She also will sing the role of Maddalena in "Rigoletto," on Jan. 27.

The American Opera Company productions will be staged at the Eleventh Street theater, 62-72 E. 11th.

Miss Kooyenga is a dramatic soprano and well known in the music field on the west coast as well as in this area.

Elaine Griffin, who also has quite a following in the area, will sing the part of Mercedes, one of the principal roles, in Carmen.

Miss Kooyenga and Miss Griffin will be in the company of distinguished artists from the United States and Europe, which follows the 32 year tradition of the American Opera Company.

Fedor Kabalin will be the guest conductor for Carmen; another guest conductor, Giulio Favario, will conduct for "Rigoletto."

Miss Kooyenga is not the only area resident to sing with the American Opera Company. Albert H. Luke, also of Lincolnwood and one of the leading authorities on helicopters, sang with the American Opera Company some years ago. He is a baritone.

The American Opera Company began in 1929 and is the oldest among the small companies in America.

Asks Mokena C. Of C. To Aid Scout Program

At a recent meeting of the Mokena Chamber of Commerce Art Omland, head of Scouting in Mokena and one of the county leaders in Boy Scout work, asked the chamber for more assistance in promoting the Scout program.

He asked that persons interested in scout work communicate with him and will find work for them to do.

A film, "Seconds for Survival," was shown to chamber members. The picture described the United States defense system.

Rules For 1st. Baby Contest

The annual "First Baby" contest is on again.

The first baby born in 1962 whose parents reside in this area will receive numerous awards from merchants in the region.

According to the rule the word "area" as used here applies to residents of Green Garden, Frankfort, New Lenox and Orland townships since Nov. 1, 1961.

It makes no difference where the child is born just so the Semmler Press, Inc. is informed of the fact by noon of Friday, Jan. 5. The caller must identify himself or herself and give the time and place of birth and the home address of the parents. The telephone numbers of the Semmler Press, Inc. are Mokena 3521 and Mokena 4151.

Unless the Semmler Press, Inc. is notified a child is not deemed eligible to compete for the awards.

In the event of a multiple birth and the first child born is the one eligible to compete.

Death Takes A. S. Cavett, Pharmacist

Alan S. Cavett, veteran drugist who was well known in the area, died Thursday (Dec. 21) at his late residence, 17940 Oak Park avenue, Tinley Park. He had been under treatment at Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, but had recovered to the point where he was permitted to return home. He was stricken suddenly Thursday and died.

Known to hundreds as "Doc," Mr. Cavett had been a resident of Tinley Park for the past 27 years. He was a native of Poseyville, Ind. He opened his first drug store in Tinley in 1936. That was on Oak Park avenue, near 173rd street. In August, 1952 he opened another store at 171st and Oak Park. He had also opened a store in Mokena, now known as the Mokena pharmacy but sold out there many years ago.

He sold his stores at Tinley some three years ago and had planned to retire and spend a lot of his time fishing in the Kentucky hills but he had worked so long retirement left time heavy on his hands and he continue to occupy himself, working as a pharmacist in various stores. It was better to work than to loaf, he said.

Mr. Cavett had been quite active in civic affairs at Tinley Park and in the activities of the Chamber of Commerce. A veteran of World War I, Mr. Cavett was a member of Tinley Park post, No. 615, American Legion.

His wife, Elizabeth, died Jan. 31, of this year. His only survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Lena C. Roberts, of Scipio, Ind., and Mrs. Jeannette C. Schafer, of Poseyville, and one brother Jean S. Cavett of San Antonio, Tex.

Removal was to the Hirsch chapel at Tinley Park where services were conducted last Saturday, Dec. 23, with the Rev. Kenneth C. Crandall, of the Tinley Park Methodist church officiating. Burial was in Evergreen Park cemetery.

Mokena Grade School Girls Sing For Lions

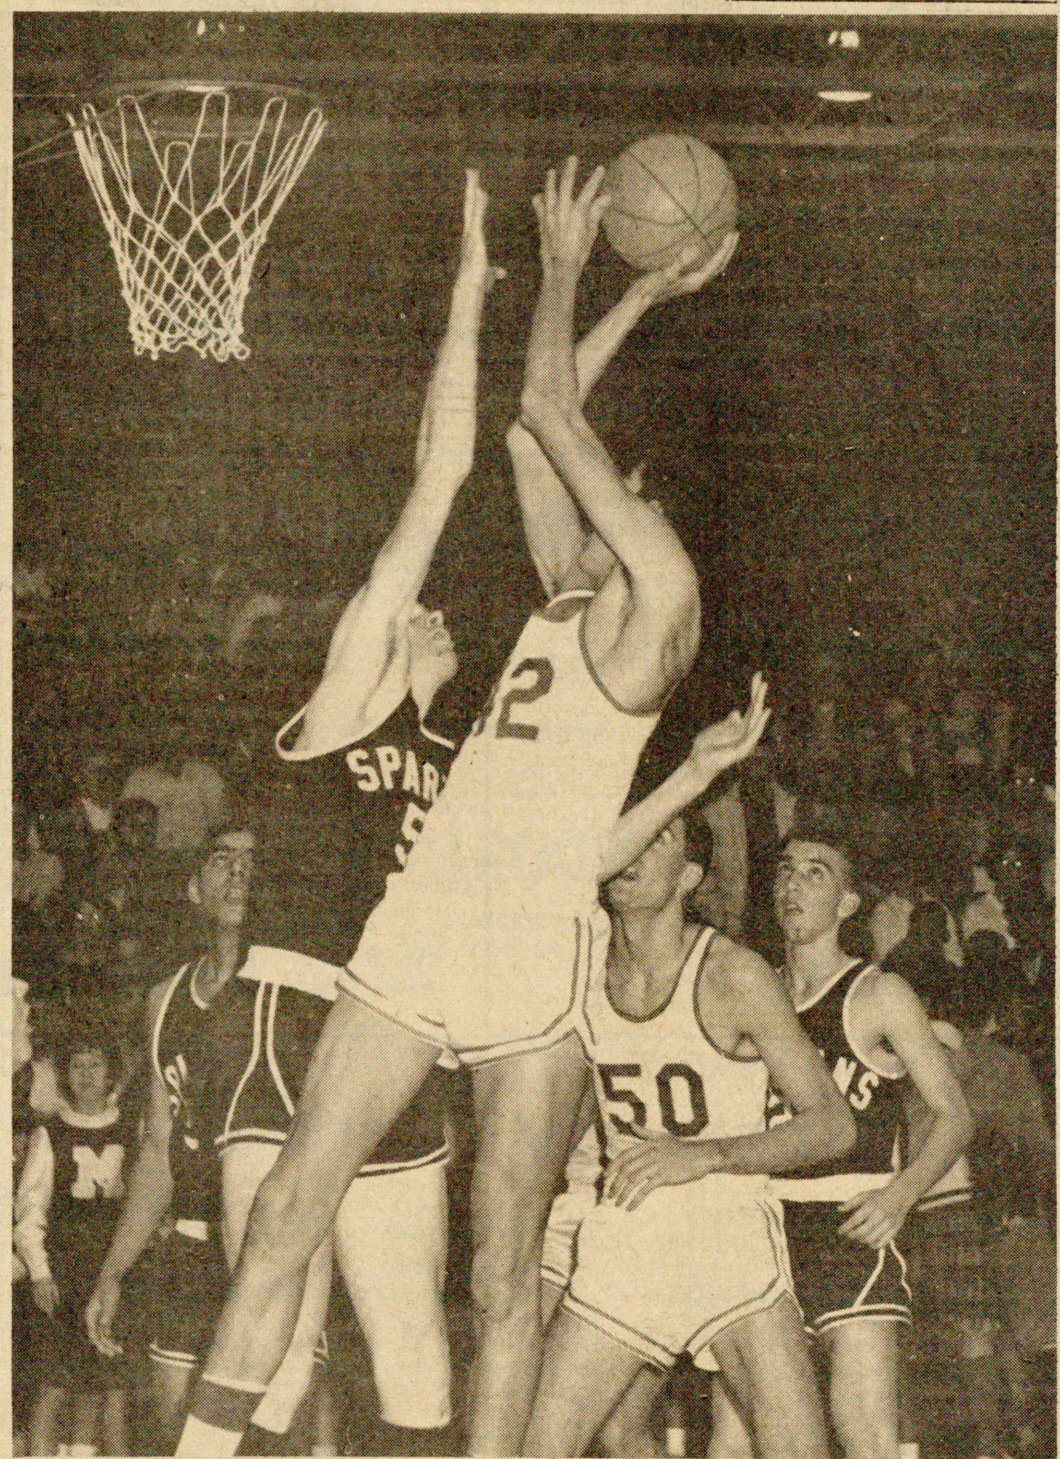

The Girls Ensemble, vocalists from the Mokena grade school music department, sang at the recent Christmas party of the Mokena Lions club which was held at Ritt's restaurant, Frankfort. This was the annual Christmas party of the Lions and wives were guests.

Group singing of Christmas carols was another feature.

Members of the ensemble are, Donna Guth, Barbara Toppen, Linda Istel, Kathy Haislet, Christine Petterson, Nancy Carlson, Barbara Ebert, Cynthia Vrendenburgh, Sandy Soderg, Jeanne Mancke, Joan Yunker and Pamela Mueller.

The director of the group is Mrs. William Clark and June Swanberg is the accompanist.

Annual Sweetheart dinner dance plans have been announced by the committee in charge. The affair will be held at the Silver Lake Country club Feb. 10. Al Carver's orchestra will furnish the music.

IN BLOOM TOURNEY--Carl Sandburg bobbled some in the first game of the Bloom holiday basketball tournament against the host team and so suffered its first loss of the season. That the Eagles had an off night was demonstrated, its supporters point out by its overwhelming defeat of Marian in the battle for third place. That is Jim Lavine pushing the ball up toward the basket. No. 50 is John DesVourney. The Sandburgs were wearing white.

Arbury Hills
Proposed Sale Of Water, Sewer System Called Off

MRS. EDWARD HOVI
Mokena 5740

All the residents of Arbury Hills were notified last week in a letter enclosed in the water bill, that there had been offers from different companies to purchase the Arbury Utilities Company; but, after due consideration of these offers, it was decided that the Arbury Utilities Company would continue under its present ownership, but in a more business-like manner of operation than had been previously evidenced.

This is a kind of bonus Christmas present for all Arbury Hills residents, who had been worrying about the probable water rate increase that would have been forthcoming with the sale of the water works.

Last Thursday, December 21, seemed to be Christmas party day for the local school children. There were school Christmas parties in the Summit Hill School in Arbury Hills, Saint Mary's school in Mokena, and even the Arbury Hills Kindergarten.

The Summit Hill Parent Teacher Group had done much work and planning towards the Christmas party in the Summit Hill School, including a scheduled appearance by Santa Claus.

Saint Mary's school also was delighted by the jolly man in the red suit who passed out candy canes to the children. There was also an exchange of gifts carried out by the children.

In the Arbury Hills kindergarten the children also were given a party on the same day, complete with red Christmas stockings for all the kindergarten pupils.

Santa Claus also was busy in Arbury Hills at the request of the Arbury Hills Civic Association making a personal appearance last Saturday down each street in Arbury Hills to pass out candy canes to all the children who came out to greet him.

The Summit Hill Girl Scout Troop were the early birds of the crowd with their Christmas party being held the previous week (Dec. 15) at the school. The earlier date did not mean that there was any less enthusiasm on the part of the girl scouts, it just started the Christmas spirit one week sooner.

The next regular meeting of the Summit Hill Girl Scout Troop will not be held until after the resumption of school. The date will be January 5, immediately after school in the all-purpose room. If there are any additional girls who would be interested in joining the girl scouts, they can do so by making their appearance at this meeting, and signing up with Mrs. Lloyd Klein at that time.

Now that the school children have been out of school for over a week now, most parents are counting the days until the Christmas vacation will be over and normalcy can settle back on the household again.

The board of education of Summit Hill school, Dist. 161, which under its regular table of meetings would meet the first Monday in January has changed the meeting date to Jan. 8 since the first Monday of 1962 falls on New Year's Day.

May I now take this time to hope that everyone had a most enjoyable Christmas celebration, and will have their best and most prosperous New Year in 1962.

Country Club Hills Leads Area In Home Building

(CNS) Country Club Hills with 67 permits issued in October led south and southwest suburban communities in a construction report released this week by the Bureau of Census.

This was the largest gain in the number of building permits issued over September for the south and west Cook County. Country Club Hills issued two permits the previous month. In October 1960 it issued 12 permits.

Lansing, runner-up with 61 permits, also showed a sizeable gain, from eight. A year ago Lansing issued 13.

Park Forest went into third place with 44 permits compared with 16th place and eight permits in September. In September 1960 Park Forest issued seven permits.

Blue Island with 39 permits leaped into fourth place from 15th with nine permits the previous month.

Other area communities in the top ten with the number of building permits were: Joliet, 33; Alsip, 32; Oak Forest, Riverdale, 29 each; Aurora, 28; Oak Lawn, 23; Calumet City, 19.

Other south and southwest communities in the October report with the number of permits were: South Holland, 18; Westchester, 15; Evergreen Park, 14; Tinley Park, 13; Berwyn, East Chicago Heights, Thornton, 12 each; Homewood, 11; Chicago Heights, Dolton, Forest Park, Harvey, 10 each.

Also listed were: Calumet Park, Chicago Ridge, Markham, Steger, Western Springs, eight each; Bridgeview, Bridgeview, Downers Grove, Midlothian, Sauk, six each; Lemont, five; Brookfield, Crestwood, La Grange Park, Orland Park, Riverside, Summit, three each; Flossmoor, Hinsdale, Worth, two each.

Building permits were not issued in East Hazel Crest, Lisle, North Riverside, Olympia Fields, Posen, and Romeoville.

No data was available for Cicero, Robbins, South Chicago Heights, and Stickney.

Permits issued for August but reported too late to appear in the August report included Orland Park with eight.

These communities lying south of Madison St. in Chicago, are among the one-third of 10,000 areas in the nation which have a local building permit system. These 3,000 to 3,500 "selected places" account for more than 90 per cent of the nationwide permit - authorized construction in 1960.

Of the 53 communities surveyed 27 showed an increase in the number of permits issued over September, while 17 showed a decrease. Nine issued the same number of permits for both months. The largest loss was 38 in Summit which went from 41 to 3.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Now comes the time when the old year is making his closing speech and in a moment or two--as time runs--will make his final bow and leave the stage to his young successor.

Final evaluation of 1961's place in history lies in the future. It is too close for us to judge objectively. We do know that tension and strife have kept most of the people in a turmoil. Talk of war and threats of war have been a daily ration for us. We in the United States have been more alarmed by war talk than have the peoples of Europe.

It seems that the cold war has been with us always and we can hope that it will remain cold. With the whole world a vast ammunition dump it seems improbable that any government would deliberately start a hot war. Such a thing would engulf the entire world as we know it and everyone would be a loser.

Wars have always been fought to gain something, with power and additional domain being the principal objectives. But a nuclear war would leave no spoils, no victors. Therefore, we doubt that any sane government would deliberately start a nuclear conflict. One must admit, however, that such a war could be started by accident or a madman but it doesn't seem likely.

Bloodshed in Asia and Africa; crises in Europe and confusion in the U.N. have jangled the nerves of many people and probably account for some of the increase in the use of tranquilizers. We should be getting accustomed to this war against our nerves by now, however, and be able to get along on aspirin.

We don't need to travel abroad, however, or go to the U.N. to find things to worry about. We can find them in our own area.

For instance--our steady increase in population. Increase in population means that larger or more schools will be required and a greater demand made on local governments for more services. All of which means a greater tax burden for the homeowner unless industry can be attracted to the area.

This really isn't anything to worry about but we should recognize its importance and do something about it. There are other things that need attention too -- in some of the communities -- and one of them is to maintain stricter supervision over ordinances supposed to control zoning and building. Control is quite lax in some places and it is not unusual to find a building ready for the roof when a request for a building permit is made. If, as has happened, the project is in violation of existing laws the violator pleads that if ordinance it would be a hardship and as far as we know he has never been penalized.

We must also insist upon strict compliance with subdivision codes. More and more housing will be built in the region and it is important that such developments have proper sewer and water facilities, and properly made streets, curbs and sidewalks.

Public officials have a lot of work to do in the coming year to meet all of the demands of the public and at the same time live within the income of the municipality. And by the same token the public has a job to do. It can cooperate with the officials they have elected and support those programs calculated to benefit the community as a whole.

It would be well if we--the public--gave our elected officials, including those in congress, a little help during 1962 in attempting to relieve the terrific tax burden we are compelled to carry. We can lop billions off of government spending -- at all levels -- thru abandonment of programs and projects intended to benefit special groups and interests.

The coming year will be what we make it. Let's do our best to make it a good one.

Happy New Year everyone.

On Second Thot

By GLENN F. LOGAN

Now that Christmas is past it would seem safe to bring up some of the points brought up by the Institute for Safer Living in connection with the kind of toys to purchase for children.

Most parents, unless they are blessed with goodly bank balances, find it tough enough to buy toys for moppets under the best of conditions without voluntarily picking up a handicap.

The Institute for Safer Living is a very fine organization with a noble aim and can always be counted upon to come up with useful and helpful suggestions calculated to reduce accidents.

We wish to make it clear that we have no fault to find with the suggestions the Institute has on this toybuying business. It is just that sometimes advice is difficult to follow, like for instance a person advised by his doctor to take a sea voyage or six months of doing nothing but rest and the poor guy given this expensive prescription is in such financial straits that he couldn't even by a TV set on time from a credit discount house.

The theme of a pre-Christmas release by the Institute is holiday safety and on the toy question it frankly states there is no such thing as a safe toy if left on a stairway or any place where it can be stumbled over without too much difficulty.

The writers for the Institute say that now is the ideal time to start training tots to be neat and orderly and a good place to start, they add, is in getting the little highlanders to put their toys away after use.

The writers do not suggest what method is best to instill a sense of tidiness in the young so one is left to wonder which is best--the long whip, the short whip or the baseball bat. Nor do these advisors give any figures as to how many mothers have flipped their lids in attempting to prevail upon the little -ahem- dears to pick up their toys without the use of corporal persuasion. The theory of the Institute writers--or maybe it's the researchers--is that while toys are still new children will attach more importance to caring for them, . . .

The Institute then comes to cross purposes with the let-the-child-decide school of thought. The Institute says do NOT give the child a free hand in the selection of Christmas toys on the grounds that he would come up with some amazing choices. Let the parents choose the toys for the tots, the Institute says right out.

Then it gives the parents directions as to what to look for thru the question and answer method.

"Will the toy ignite or burn?" That is the first one and it is a dinger. Off hand we would say there are few toys made of asbestos or aluminum foil, or out of concrete or rocks. There are toys made of metal that won't ignite or burn but they may not pass some of the other tests outlined.

"Can it cause cuts or punctures?" is one of them, so that rules out the metals.

"Will it break into small pieces?" That is another toughy. Unless made of steel or some of the harder alloys there are few, if any toys that can withstand the assaults of a determined tot. And the question definitely rules out such gifts as clocks or watches.

"Can it be swallowed?" Another stumper, because kids have been swallowing a lot of odds and ends thru the ages, some of them things that a book-maker would lay 100 to 1 couldn't be downed.

"Was lead paint used to finish the toy?" What is the parent to do in this case--wire the manufacturer, . . . take the toy to a chemical lab for a test, . . . or endeavor to run the tests himself? It is not likely the merchant would allow him to borrow the toy to have the tests made and as long as he had to pay for it what would he do? That is another question for him to answer.

And last but not least--"If the toy likely to cause injury if thrown by a child?"

For safety's sake, the Institute says, the answer should be "no" to each question.

That is all very well but it still leaves a big question. Perhaps one can go so far as to say that it leaves THE BIG QUESTION--what kind of a toy is there that one can give?

The only reasonably safe thing we can think of at the moment is a bass drum--without the sticks of course.

Hints For Homeowners

Many homes have been brightened during the past holiday season by a beautiful azalea plant. If purchased with many buds and just a few open flowers the plant should still be in bloom at this time. After the holidays each year, many people call my office for information on proper care of azaleas and how the plants can be made to flower again.

Azaleas hold up remarkably well in the warm dry atmosphere of our homes. However, these conditions cause the plants to bloom out too quickly and the blossoms last only a short time. If at all possible, the plants should be kept in a cool place while they flower. This is especially important at night. A 55-60 degree night temperature is ideal. During the day keep the plant in a south window where it will get plenty of light. Never let the soil dry out. When the soil becomes quite dry, water the plant thoroughly and allow the excess water to drain away. Do not keep the plant standing in water. Azaleas can be re-bloomed if proper conditions are provided. Keep the plant growing in a cool location and remove blooms as they wither. If leaves turn yellow, fertilize with 1/2 teaspoon of ammonium sulfate and 1/2 teaspoon of iron sulfate in a quart of water.

In mid-May, plunge the pot in a semi-shaded somewhat protected spot outside. Surrounding the spot with moist peat will help hold moisture in the soil ball. Don't neglect during the summer. Water and fertilize regularly, and watch for pests such as red spiders, mealybugs aphids and slugs. Before mid-summer (by July 1) carefully shape your azalea by removing the tips of all rapidly growing shoots. Keep the plant outdoors in the fall as long as you can.

Before frost, bring it inside to full sun in a very cool room. Aim at a temperature of 40-50 degrees F. from November until the first of the year. An unheated sunroom or enclosed porch is ideal. Or the plant may be given some protection outside in a coldframe until quite cold weather arrives. Continue to give good care during this cool period when flower buds are developing, but withhold fertilizer and reduce watering. Without the cold treatment, no flowers would form.

Much of the above information on azaleas as well as similar information on other plants can be found in a bulletin, "Flowering Gift Plants," available from the Cooperative Extension Service, 6657 South St., Tinley Park, Ill.

THE VAUDEVIL STAGE

AND THE POOR MORTGAGOR

Do you remember the stage Vaudevil' villain with the long black, moustache, threatening to throw the destitute widow and her children out into the storm, unless she makes a payment on the mortgage? In law, the widow is called the "mortgagor" and the villain is known as the "mortgagee."

The Vaudevil sketch may have been all in fun, but the widow and the villain were using a financing device that is the basis for most purchases of real estate in Illinois today.

A simple example will illustrate how mortgages work. Suppose that Bill wants to buy a house and lot from Tom for $15,000. Tom wants to receive the entire purchase price in cash, but Bill has only $5,000 cash. If his credit is good, Bill will probably go to a local bank or other lending institution, and make application for a loan of $10,000.

The bank will check Bill's credit standing, and if the loan is approved, Bill will sign a note promising to repay the $10,000, with interest, in installments spread over a period of years. As security for the loan, Bill will pledge the house and lot. This security agreement is known as the mortgage.

The mortgage provides that if Bill fails to make payments to the bank as they fall due, the bank may treat the entire balance on the note as due immediately, and may file suit in court or foreclose the mortgage. Should this happen, Bill will be notified of the action, and he may come into court and defend if he desires.

If the court finds that Bill has in fact defaulted in payments, an order may be entered directing the master in chancery to sell the house and lot at a public sale, and to pay the bank from the proceeds of the sale.

If the sale does not bring enough money to pay the note, judgment may be entered against Bill for the deficiency. And if there is any excess after court costs are paid, this money goes to Bill.

In order to protect the borrower from hardship in case of temporary financial setbacks, Illinois law provides that if a mortgage is foreclosed and a sale held by order of court, the mortgagor (the borrower) may redeem the property at any time within one year. In order to redeem, he must pay the person who purchased the property at the foreclosure sale the amount paid at the sale plus 6% interest.

There are various types of mortgages in use in Illinois today. For example, the seller of a house and lot, or farm, may not insist that the buyer pay the entire price at once, but accept a down payment, convey title to the buyer, and immediately take back a mortgage on the premises. Lawyers call this a "purchase money mortgage."

Mortgages are often used for purposes other than purchase of real estate. For example, many businesses and farm enterprises receive their initial capital by means of a mortgage on real estate owned by the businessman. Any time security is needed for a loan, this device of securing the lender is available.

It is possible to have several mortgages on the same property. Each mortgagee should record his mortgage with the county recorder as soon as it is executed, so that he has a valid claim to the property, and all others who subsequently acquire an interest in the property take subject to his lien.

Wayside Circle Holds Meeting Today In Church

BY ELIZABETH ANDERSON
The Wayside Workers' Circle of King's Daughters will meet at Homer Church today (Thursday) at 1 o'clock, weather and roads permitting. Coffee and doughnuts will be served preceding the business session and devotional program.

The Missionary Society will be serving Christmas lunch at noon today (Thursday) at the church with the young people who come to attend the Midwest Association Youth Conference as their guests. The visitors will be housed over Thursday night in local homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Aspel was called to Wyandot last Sunday by the death of her mother, Mrs. Clarence Smith, who has been ill for several years. The funeral was held Wednesday, and the Aspels returned to their home here Thursday morning. Mrs. Loren Aspel stayed in her son's home and cared for Mike and Pat during the absence of their parents.

Mrs. Clara Reed is quite ill in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Verna Habenicht, on Hill Crest Rd. Mrs. Reed suffered a paralytic stroke about two weeks ago. Mrs. Edna Mergler has been helping to care for the patient.

Mrs. John Hollister was elected vice president of the United Church Women of the Lockport area at the December board meeting. She represented Homer church at that meeting.

George Lashey of Marion, Ohio, is a guest in the home of his granddaughter, Mrs. Stanley Cox and Mr. Cox. He spent Christmas with his daughter in Milwaukee, and will return to the Coxes later.

The A. L. Henderson family, E. 7th St., are spending the holidays with relatives in North Carolina.

Liquor Dealers State Support Of Dimes March

More than 2,000 Cook county retail liquor dealers will go all-out in support of the 1962 March of Dimes during the January drive for funds to fight birth defects and arthritis, and to continue polio patient aid.

The civic project is a statewide program supported by the 5,000 members of the Retail Liquor Dealers association of Illinois for the third successive year. Last year the association raised more than $18,000 for the March of Dimes.

Giant dime boards spelling out the urgent message, "Join the March of Dimes," will be displayed by all retail liquor dealers during the month-long January campaign. Each board, when filled with dimes, will total nearly $70, which will be turned over to the local county chapter of the National Foundation.

"All of us in the liquor industry are eager to support the March of Dimes program to fight crippling diseases through research, education and patient aid," said Steve Ritoff, of Channahon, president of the Retail Liquor Dealers association.

"We are calling on all liquor dealers to join with us in this worthwhile effort to raise funds for the 1962 March of Dimes." The announcement of the liquor dealer program was made jointly by Ritoff and John E. Miller, general campaign chairman of the 1962 Cook County March of Dimes.

"The fine support of liquor dealers will focus attention on the need for across-the-board public support of the March of Dimes," Miller said.

"Past contributions to the National Foundation made possible the development of the Salk and Sabin vaccines to conquer polio as a dread crippler. Now the big battle is against birth defects and arthritis, and this year's slogan - 'Your Dimes Will Do It Again!'" - is the challenge that we must meet," he said.

Association members sparking the March of Dimes drive include Dominic Palmere, 9604 Franklin Ave., Franklin Park, vice president; George Ulrich, 3335 W. Fullerton Ave., executive secretary; Russell Talbot, 7629 N. Paulina Ave.

Dew Drop Camp Holds Annual Election

Dew Drop Camp No. 2023, Royal Neighbors of America, held their annual election of officers and Christmas party on Tuesday evening, Dec. 12, at the American Legion Hall, Tinley Park, with Oracle Sally Nolte presiding.

WONDERFUL FEELING!

THE 4 IN 1 HOME LOAN PLAN

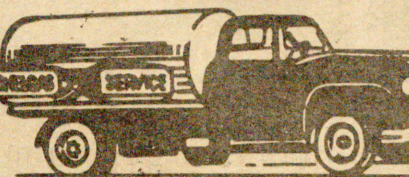

As you probably know, there's more to buying a house than just paying off the loan in monthly installments. You also have real estate taxes and insurance. They be a headache -- but not when you have your mortgage with Archer Hoyne Federal. You see, one monthly payment at Archer Hoyne pays off principal and interest on the loan -- AND builds an escrow account to pay the taxes and insurance premiums when they fall due. There are no all-of-a-sudden large bills to leave your pockets empty. It's part of the modern home financing you get at Archer Hoyne Federal Savings.

For more details, call Henry J. Wolske, President, at Fieldbrook 9-0169

Business & Finance

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND

For quite a number of years some of the craft unions have been severely criticized for their limitations on production per employee and also limitation of apprenticeship to families of union members.

Now we find management coming in for scrutiny as to foresight and nepotism.

The compute has brought real concern into the lives of management whose positions have been secure thru the years of seniority and friends and relatives at the top rather than special abilities. These electronic brains are able, under expert operation, to quickly locate inefficiency in an organization. Whole industries are being analyzed by our modern teams of analysts.

Harvard Business Review of July - August, 1960, carried "Marketing Myopia" by Theodore Levitt. Mr. Levitt was formerly economic consultant to the oil industry and now concentrating on marketing.

The article is quite long as it covers a number of industries.

Mr. Leavitt notes that every major industry was once a growth industry and that some industries now riding a wave of growth enthusiasm are in the shadow of decline. He expresses his belief that growth of an industry is slowed or stopped because of a management failure rather than market saturation.

He states railroads did not decline because of decline of need for passengers and freight transportation. Transportation need was filled by trucks, planes, cars and location and shipment changes to beat costs. He states the rails that themselves in railroad business whereas they were in the transportation business.

Hollywood barely escaped oblivion by television. Mr. Leavitt points out that the movies, like the railroads, defined their business incorrectly as the "movie business" whereas they were in the entertainment field. Hollywood scorned TV when it should have welcomed it as an opportunity to expand in the entertainment field.

Thruout Mr. Leavitt's article is the point industries tend to be product-oriented rather than customer-oriented. He believes that the movie industry and railroad field, have real chance for growth with proper definition.

He believes that good "marketing" practices will keep an industry growing whereas "selling" is merely disposal of a production. Selling focuses on the needs of the seller whereas marketing is interested in the needs of the buyer. "The seller takes his cues from the buyer as to products - not vice versa." He continues, "there is no guarantee against product obsolescence as if the company's own research does not make it obsolete another's well."

He also calls attention to a famous will in which the Bos-

Luffer, vice president; Delmar Mather, secretary; Wilbert Klier, treasurer; Elmer Feigel, financial secretary; Henry Kuch, elder and J. Howard Bell, trustee.

At 1:15 p.m. Jan. 2, the Ladies Circle will meet with Mrs. Orville Schinkowski and install new officers, Mrs. Schinkowski, president, Mrs. John Ball, vice president, Mrs. Lellie Koenig, secretary and Mrs. Henry Kuse, treasurer.

ton millionaire directed that his fortune be invested in street railway systems as he believed there would always be a need for urban transportation. The heirs have watched the estate melt.

A few of Mr. Levitt's remarks follow:

Aluminum - growing mainly due to two companies that grew up in the war, Reynolds Metals and Kaiser Aluminum - both sought and found new uses.

Dupont and Corning Glass - examples of the few firms that have been alert to market needs rather than production sales alone.

Electric utilities - a number of firms new well advanced in developing a powerful fuel cell which could produce electricity in individual homes. Solar energy is also a goal.

Oil - most developments in petroleum came from non-oil firms as "ethyl" compound developed by Dupont and General Motors.

Mr. Levitt proves again by his analyses that the investor must stay alert to be successful. No industry is immune from his surgeon's dissection.

H. Savino Jr. Loses Battle To Leukemia

Henry Savino, Jr., 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Savino of 2153 W. 121st Place, Blue Island, died Monday, Dec. 25 at Cleveland, O., where he was undergoing special treatment for leukemia.

His father is composing room foreman at the Chicago Heights Star. Besides his parents the boy is survived by a sister, Margaret, two brothers, Anthony and Timothy, two grandmothers, Mrs. Carmela Savino and Mrs. Agnes Brady, both of Blue Island and several uncles and aunts and cousins.

He was graduated from St. Walter parochial school at Blue Island.

Removal was to the Hallahan chapel at Vermont and Maple streets, Blue Island from where friends may call this evening and tomorrow. Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday from St. Walter church. Interment will be in St. Benedict cemetery.

Sandburg Coaches Fear Gals Basketball Team

The Sandburg coaching staff, true to the traditions of their trade, are decidedly pessimistic regarding their chances against the All American Red-heads, queens of big time basketball in the game scheduled the night of Jan. 13 in the Sandburg gym.

The coaches do not report any of their number as ill or injured as of this date but hint that two or three members of the squad are just barely being held together with some old string and odd bits of scotch tape.

John Wilson, frosh-soph coach, was an all state forward when he played with Paris which

Federation Plans Party, Dance Team

4-H leaders were guests of the County 4-H Federation at its last meeting, Tues., Dec. 5. Ralph Jackson, vice-president, challenged the federation members to take more initiative and assume greater responsibilities and appealed to the leaders to help promote better attendance by their delegates.

Dale Meyer was appointed chairman for the Honor Roll banquet which will be held Thursday at the Atrium in Peotone.

An ice-skating party was selected as the winter activity for the federation members.

Members were enthusiastic over the prospect of having a Federation Square dance team which brought forth enough volunteers for more than two dance teams.

Mrs. JoAnn Hallick, of the Tri-City Dairy council, gave a talk on egg-nogs and presented the film "Anytime is Dairy Drink Time." The high spot of her program was the serving of milk drinks to the members.

The January meeting will be Tuesday, Jan. 2, at the Will County Farm Bureau conference room. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m.
